LETTER OF COLLABORATION between

ENACTUS, SHRI RAM COLLEGE OF COMMERCE, NEW DELHI, INDIA

HANS RAJ MAHILA MAHA VIDYALAYA, JALANDHAR

Enactus, Shri Ram College of Commerce is an international student based non-profit organization that promotes social entrepreneurship by taking up community outreach projects to transform lives of people in need and shape a better world.

Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya, Jalandhar is an educational institution. The College functions under the DAV College Managing Committee which is the largest Non-Government Organization, entirely dedicated to the cause of education. It offers a myriad variety of subject combinations and courses designed to meet global requirements.

This Letter of Collaboration is designed to foster a friendly relationship through mutual cooperation in improving the living conditions and providing opportunities to the Thathera community of JandialaGuru for their upliftment. The primary goal of the project is to revive the UNESCO listed dying craft form of the Thatheras of Jandiala Guru, Punjab who make copper and brass utensils; by unifying them, providing them access to organized credit, modifying the designs as per the contemporary needs and linking them to better demand avenues including bulk and individual demand avenues. Enactus SRCC in collaboration with the students of Hans Raj MahilaMahaVidyalya, aim at reaching out to the potential demand source of exhibitions. No financial obligations are assumed under this agreement.

Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya, Jalandhar and Enactus, Shri Ram College of Commerce, New Delhi have reached agreement on the following areas of cooperation, subject to mutual consent and the availability of sufficient funding:

The volunteers will be provided on a rolling basis. After the graduation of the above mentioned students or in case of non-availability of the above students, the college may send new volunteers.

1. ON GROUND SUPPORT

- i) Physical presence of atleast two or more volunteers during the exhibitions and stalls set up in Punjab and Chandigarh throughout the year, showcasing the products of the Thatheras.
- ii) Regular analysis of the consumer demand and tastes for the products and suggesting suitable changes to designs and supply availability to maximise profitability
- iii) Maintenance of a proper customer database(actual and potential) from exhibitions.

2. ONLINE RESEARCH

- i) Extensive and timely researches on the renowned events/exhibitions being organized throughout North India.
- ii) Desktop research over various bulk demand avenues which can serve as potential demand avenues.

3. PUBLIC RELATIONS

- i) Proper handling of various social media portals of P-TAL including facebook, instagram and other portals,if any, started in future.
- ii) Establishing links with media houses and other sources to ensure increased media reach to promote the craftform of the thatheras and to notify the potential customers about the upcoming exhibitions.

4. ACCOMODATION

- i) Arranging accommodation for the members of P-TAL in the event of any exhibition in the city of Jalandhar. However, accommodation in the college Guest House is subject to the availability on prior information. The guests will be served purely vegetarian food and consumption of alcohol and smoking is strictly prohibited inside the campus. The inmates who chose to stay in campus will have to abide by the rules and regulations of the college.

CREATIVE BLACK COUNTRY, UK

This Letter of Collaboration is designed to foster a friendly relationship through mutual cooperation in research promotion between Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya, Jalandhar and Creative Black Country, UK. No financial obligations are assumed under this agreement.

Creative Black Country is the lead organization for the project, which is part of an Arts Council England funded audience development programme called 'Creative People and Places' (CPP) whose catchment area is the Black Country: Sandwell (West Bromwich), Wolverhampton, and Walsall. The Black Country boasts the largest Punjabi diaspora outside of India who have created a unique identity in the area, redefining the cultural, economic and social landscape.

Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya, Jalandhar is an educational institution. The College functions under the DAV College Managing Committee which is the largest Non-Government Organization, entirely dedicated to the cause of education. It offers a myriad variety of subject combinations and courses designed to meet global requirements.

This Letter of Collaboration is designed to foster a friendly relationship through mutual cooperation for re-Imagine GIRLS, GIRLS, GIRLS! which is a collaborative project between Creative Black Country, Multistory and Nazar Foundation and part of the UK / India Year of Culture 2017-2018. It is funded and supported by the Arts Council England and the British Council in India. The objective of Re-Imagine is to foster a programme of cultural exchange and creative collaborations between art and cultural organizations in England and in India.

Creative Black Country collaborates with Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya on following issues:-

1. Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya will coordinate with Jocelyn Allen, a rising figure in British Photography who has been commissioned by Creative Black Country to create compelling stories exploring aspects of women's lives in Punjab and to cooperate with Deepika Sharma, the producer of the project.
2. Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya will allow the accomplished students to be interviewed for the project.

We are doing these activities with the collaboration/association with different organizations, HMV Collage is one of them.

We have organized many workshops, training sessions and seminars for skill development of youth and women.

I appreciate the efforts of HMV in imparting skill based education to the poor and needy girl students. The college is doing tremendous work and enriching the community by helping them in getting employment and getting established as small entrepreneurs.

I wish you grand success in all your community endeavors and seek your assistance in our joint ventures.
