lecture on Multimedia Tools and Tricks

Friday, May 14, 2021

Hans Raj MahilaMahaVidyalaya is organising a Ten Day Induction Programme. On the Sixth Day of this Programme, Mr. Ashish Chadha from Post Graduate Department of Multimedia was the Resource Person who delivered a lecture on Multimedia Tools and Tricks. Mr. Ashish Chadha shared his knowledge about various tools used in Multimedia which act as the back bone of any Digital Media Production. He made the students aware about the various free online services which can be used along with their emails. He also gave a Practical Session on how to use these free tools/websites to get their work done in day to day life and making it very easy and less time consuming. He made them aware about use of G-Drive, Docs, JamBoard, Slides, Form, Keep, Mind master, Canva and other various online apps and websites available free on the internet. Other recording tools like OBS Studio and Open Shot were also explained. It was really an interesting and interactive session in which students participated with full of gusto. Students felt this session quite helpful as at the end there was one to one query session. They also provided their valuable feedback. Incharges of this induction programme, Mrs. MeenuKohli, Post Graduate Department of Commerce and Management and Ms. ShalluBatra, Post Graduate

Department of Economics delivered a vote of thanks at the end of the session.

International webinar on “Fashion World-Post COVID Era” organized at HMV

PG Department of Fashion Designing of Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya organized an International Webinar on the Topic of “Fashion World - Post Covid Era” under the aegis of IQAC as per the directions and guidelines of Prof. Dr. (Mrs.) Ajay Sareen. Webinar Series coordinator Dr. Ramnita Saini Sharda stressed on exploring various possibilities in the field of Fashion. Mrs. Navneeta, Asst. Prof in Fashion Designing and Coordinator of the webinar introduced the speakers and the topic of the webinar and moderated the session. The keynote speaker was Mrs. Pritika Bawa, an Associate Professor at National Institute of Fashion Technology (NIFT) Delhi with more than two decades of experience as an academician specializing in the field of Fashion Studies with a focus on Textiles, Fashion Management, Critical thinking, Social Design, etc. Through a very structured presentation she stressed on possibilities of recycling and redesigning, job opportunities, scope of investment in course of Fashion Designing, online internship, PhD in Fashion Designing and craft cluster. Next Speaker was Mrs. Krishi Sarin, HOD Fashion Designing and Junior Consultant at FDDI, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India, Noida. She has provided her teaching services at various top class institutions. She has also worked as a designer and has been a Fashion Show organizer and coordinator. She shared her views on “Made in India”, future outlook of Fashion Industry, how to support “Vocal for your Local”, Government funding for start-ups in the field of Fashion and shared a very detailed information on MSME in Apparel Sector. Ms. Winky Singh (Industry Partner) from Ministry of Design, New Delhi was the next speaker. She studied from London College of Fashion and had designed for Miss World 2000 Priyanka Chopra. She was to share her views on “Importance of Sustainability in Post Covid Era”, but due to bad weather in Delhi she was not able to join. The last speaker was a Fashion Designer and enthusiasts from England, UK.

Mrs. AnuritaChandola. She shared her views on “Covid-19 and Global Perspective of Fashion Industry”, new trends coming up like season less collections, antibacterial, self-cleaning and pollution protective clothing. How to support local weavers and artists. Job opportunities abroad and way to abroad after pursuing the course of Fashion Designing, Development of new websites to sale or rent your old expensive clothes. Very detailed and intensive presentation was given by all fashion experts. The questions raised by the participants were answered very well. Positive note in their presentation had given a lot of hope to the Fashion Fraternity and after attending the webinar we learnt to recycle, redesign, go for sensible production and consumption, return to minimalism, stop sense less collections, rethink our values, take advantage of government schemes, be vocal for your local and how the students can develop their skills to be job providers not job seekers. Mrs. Rishav, HOD, PG Department of Fashion Designing extended a formal vote of thanks. Principal Dr. Mrs. Ajay Sareen appreciated the efforts and congratulated the Department, Webinar series coordinator, Dr. Ramnita Saini Sharda, IQAC Coordinator, Dr. Kawaldeep Kaur and the technical team on successful execution of the webinar.

HMV organised “Factshala” India Media Literacy Network Workshop

The PG departments of Mass Communication and Video Production and Multimedia of Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya organised “Factshala, India Media Literacy Network workshop. The resource person of the workshop was Prof. Umesh Arya, Chairman, Department of Communication Management and Technology, Guru Jameshwar University of Science and Technology, Hisar, Haryana. Principal Prof. Dr. Mrs. Ajay Sareen welcomed him and said that while it is difficult to control the flow of information, media and information literacy can lessen the impact of this problem by developing media and information literacy competencies amongst people. She said that there is a need to have concerted efforts to make people media and information literate so that they can sail smoothly in the sea of information and media messages. Mrs. Rama Sharma, Head of PG department of Mass Communication and Video Production department welcomed him and gave his brief introduction. She also gave the concept note of the workshop.

Prof. Umesh Arya pointed out that in present times; the importance of awareness has been increasing but the universal question of how to acquire news still remains. Lately, literacy has become defined as IT literacy and it should also include Media Literacy, because while news and information can be received within seconds, dissemination of it is being threatened because of social media, increasingly, every day. Top-down communication has become lateral communication, and while everyone is a journalist now, responsibility should be imbibed in every one to be able to battle fake news. Fake news is made and spread to mislead public opinion as well as generate advertising revenues and to fight this menace, media literacy is the only weapon, available. He advised that mainstream media needs to improve their skills differentiating between facts and fiction, and fact-checking methods, irrespective of the urgency.

Prof. Arya said that Media literacy is the ability to understand the different types of media and the messages it gives. He said that once a message has been received it is important to ask 5 questions: who created the message, why was the message created, who is the target of the message, what is the information included and excluded in the message, and what is the message making the reader feel.

He made his session very interactive with feedback sessions simultaneously which he took through various online modes.

As an educational institution, the Departments of Mass Communication and Multimedia of Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya took on the responsibility of helping students, faculty and professionals to indentify Disinformation, and in turn, encourage them to actively participate in public affairs as a media literate citizen. This workshop was attended by more than 750 participants through facebook live. Moderator of the workshop and Dean Student Welfare Dr. Anjana Bhatia presented vote of thanks. She also thanked Head of Multimedia Department Mr. Ashish Chadha and Technical team Mr. Vidhu Vohra and Mr. Rishabh Dhir.

Keywords: Obesity, Diabetes, Gut microbiome, Linkage disequilibrium, pleiotropy

Obesity causes approximately 4.7 million premature deaths annually, which accounts for a loss of ca. 8% globally. Obesity is an outcome of complex, heritable, and multi-factorial interaction of multiple genes, environmental factors, and behavioral traits that makes management and prevention challenging in the human population (Rao et al., 2014). Experimental research has demonstrated that altered metabolites in multiple metabolic pathways are associated with obesity (Zhao et al., 2016). Alteration in the proportion of bacteroidetes and firmicutes in the gut microbiome can trigger obesity. The gut microbiome's influence on obesity is much more complicated than the imbalance of these bacteria species. Modulation of the gut microbiome through diet, prebiotics, surgery, and antibiotics significantly affects the obesity epidemic (John & Mullin, 2016). It is one of the enormous global health problems associated with increased morbidity and mortality mediated by its association with several other metabolic disorders (Saini et al., 2018). We aim to target obesity and diabetes-associated metabolic disorders and annotate the genes common to these complex diseases using a systems genomic integrated approach, thereby using Galaxy as a platform.

Webinar on “Covid-19: Immune Response and Computational Resources”

28.04.2021

Bioinformatics Department in collaboration with the Department of Zoology organized a Webinar on “Covid-19: Immune Response and Computational Resources” on 28th April, 2021 for celebrating International Day of Immunology. This webinar was conducted under the able guidance of Principal Prof. Dr. (Mrs.) Ajay Sareen. The Resource Persons included an eminent scientist Prof. G.P.S. Raghava, Head Department of Computational Biology, Indraprastha Institute of Information Technology (IIIT), New Delhi and Dr. Deeksha (MD Pathology), Director Synergy Labs, Jalandhar.

Prof. G.P.S Raghava explained the basics of vaccines, various types of vaccines, mechanisms involved in immune response to COVID-19 and pathway of vaccine discovery. He very well explained the multiple layers of the immune system and also showed how different features of the immune response can be used to develop computational tools and databases. It is worth mentioning that Prof. Raghava’s group has been the pioneer in developing a variety of web servers and software related to the field of immunology including the latest CoronaVIR. Dr. Deeksha Chaudhary explained the evolution, structure and function of SARS CoV-2. She elaborated on various types of vaccines and their mechanism of action with special reference to a variety of COVID-19 vaccines being developed by various companies. She also addressed various queries and motivated everyone to get vaccinated.

HMV Became the Only College of GNDU to be Declared as a Performer Institute in ARIIA Rankings

Thursday, 30 December 2021

Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya, Jalandhar was declared as a Performer Institute in Atal Ranking of Institutions on Innovation Achievements (ARIIA) rankings which were announced by the Ministry of Education on 29th December, 2021. Hon'ble Minister of State, Dr. Subhas Sarkar, Ministry of Education, Govt. of India graced the occasion as Chief Guest. The premier institute, Hans Raj Mahila Maha Vidyalaya, Jalandhar was assessed on various parameters like innovation ecosystem, entrepreneurship development, teaching learning among others and was placed in the Performer Institute Band. Expressing her delight over HMV's phenomenal performance, Principal Prof. Dr. (Mrs.) Ajay Sareen said: "Today, HMV is a brand of its own. This achievement is due to the sheer hard work of the students, staff, faculty members, our alumni and the vision of the torch bearers of this institute, our mentors at DAU New Delhi and our mentors of Local Committee." She further added that with new and interdisciplinary academic programs that are the need of the hour and in line with the NEP-2020, HMV is destined to be a dream destination for students. Dr. Anjana Bhatia, Dean, Innovations and Research informed that in 2018, MoE launched a unique ranking framework ARIIA (Atal Ranking of Institutions on Innovation Achievements) to systematically rank all major educational institutions in India on their innovation achievements and ability to create startup ecosystems within their campuses. HMV participated for the first time and was placed in the performer group. HMV has created an excellent ecosystem for entrepreneurship by setting up Institution Innovation Council, Incubation Centre, Start Up Centre and Entrepreneurship Development Cell.
